

Charles E. "Chuck" Augello

Chuck Augello is an experienced User Experience professional at The Vanguard Group where he has designed mobile applications, client facing web sites, analytical investment tools and transactional based financial systems as well as internal operational excellence applications. In his current role he facilitates discussion aimed at assisting business teams in defining their vision and empowering scrum team with visions that enable them to visualize efficient technical solutions.

While at Vanguard, Chuck has held a series of positions with increasing responsibilities from a client-server developer to his most recent role as a Senior User Interaction Designer. He has served as a Business Systems Analyst, substitute ScrumMaster, Team Lead and Subject Matter Expert.

Chuck's networking skills and expertise in task management have been instrumental in enabling him to concurrently support multiple agile development teams tasked with implementing complex technology projects across diverse application platforms. Having consistently been identified as a leader among his peers, Chuck has twice received the prestigious Peer Recognition Award during his Vanguard career.

Evidence of Chuck's natural ability for leadership, which has been evident throughout his career, was visible early on as he progressed through the Boy Scouts of America ranks to rise to the level of Eagle Scout. In addition to his workplace leadership positions, Chuck has served as the Master of his Masonic lodge, experienced the entrepreneurial joy of owning his own dining establishment and has served on the board of his local Convention and Visitors Bureau.

Chuck holds a Bachelor of Science Degree in Business and Finance from Mount Saint Mary's University and a Computer Programming Certificate from the Chubb Institute.
